Midred Sterling Award -			This award was created in 1997 by the honor of Mildred Sterling, a Latin teacher from Waco, Texas. Ms. Sterling attended the NJCL Convention from the first time in 1964 at the way up through 1996, and she even attended the 1993 planning meeting for that first convention. The award honors those persons who have attended many NJCL Conventions and who have distinguished themselves with dedication to NJCL, doing their best to recognize those JCL chapters who continually give of themselves to further the goals of the Junior Classical League. This Cum Laude Award is a token of thanks from the National organization for all the effort that these people have put into JCL over the years -	teachers 9-12	secondary	Conference	Service		NJCL	1	X
